

CHINA CUPBOARD BELONGED TO
HARRY AND VIRGINIA HARTT
In Indiana

Okay- here is a piece of HARTT HISTORY! This china cupboard belonged to my Great-grandmother Hartt (Virginia Hartt - Harry's wife).

(Harry, Odber, Odber, George C., John, Jonathan, Samuel, Isaac)

This may even go back a generation older, but I don't know for sure.) This cupboard still has it's original glass! That is a miracle as it has been moved through several states and houses! It was at Jack's home and then we moved it back to my home.

My grandma painted the cupboard this antique cream color, but the original wood is dark oak. Perhaps someday I will have the money to restore it. It will cost over 900.00 to do it as it will all have to be taken a part and re-done. But for now, I leave it as my grandma (Betty Hartt-Howell) painted it. :-)

HOME IN HUNTINGTON, INDIANA

This is my grandma's (Betty Hartt-Howell) home on Tipton street in Huntington, Indiana. It use to have two big Oak trees out front. She would plant flowers everywhere! Now it is run-down and only a hint of what the original home appeared as. I spent so many precious moments here growing up with her. I miss her so much! She was so special to me.

On the other side of the town, lived Harry Hartt. We did not go over to take pix as we ran out of time. We visited 5 cities in just an afternoon- we had to run. :-)
